Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

1. Claims 4-7 are objected to because of the following informalities: The abbreviations DLL and IE are undefined. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. Claim 22 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite in that it fails to point out what is included or excluded by the claim language. The claim recites "A method, apparatus, system, graphical user interface or computer readable medium as shown or described in this application". This claim is an omnibus type claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US patent application 2003/0053420 (Duckett et al).

- As for claims 1, 22: Duckett et al teach a computer implemented method and corresponding system for testing a web site by providing a network browser having a

Art Unit: 2173

capability to perform analysis and testing of web site residing on the Internet (abstract; 0142, 0145, 0146).

- As for claim 2: Duckett et al disclose a test-enabled web browser, comprising:
standard browsing components (i.e., the browser);
testing components 102 (i.e., the testing applet, 0104, 0106, 0142, 0145), and the browser includes a graphical user interface to provide user access to said standard browsing components and said testing components (0119 - 0132, 0161 - 0172, 0177-0179, 0191).
- As for claim 3: The test-enabled browser comprises at least one of a script record component and a script playback component (0153 - 0157), a content validation component (0191).
- As for claims 4, 5: It is inherently included in Duckett's teaching of Internet Explorer that the standard browsing components comprises DLL components pertain to Internet Explore (0146. Evidence support for the inherency reasoning can be found, at least, in US patent #6,421,070, 2:15-65).
- As for claim 6: Duckett et al teach a computer implemented method and corresponding program code means for testing of websites residing on the Internet comprising:
first computer program code for performing test operations (i.e., the testing applet, 0104, 0106, 0142, 0145), and second computer program code for performing DLLs of IE (inherently included in Duckett's teaching of Internet Explorer), wherein said first and second computer program code together implement a test-enabled web browser (abstract; 0142, 0145, 0146).

- As for claim 7: The first computer program code comprises computer program code for performing at least one of a script record component and a script playback component (0153 - 0157), a content validation component (0191).

- As for claim 8: Duckett et al teach a computer implemented method and corresponding means for testing websites, comprising:

(a) receiving a trigger (0110);

(b) performing test-based processing associated with the trigger (0109), and

(c) thereafter performing browser-based processing associated with the trigger (0116-0132).

- As for claim 9: The test-based processing enables the automated analysis and testing of websites (0116 - 0132).

- As for claim 10: Duckett et al teach a computer implemented method and corresponding means for testing a website residing on a network using a test-enabled browser, said method comprising:

(a) accessing a website to be tested using the test-enabled browser (abstract; 0142, 0145, 0146),

(b) selecting a test or evaluation to be performed (0109, 0194), and

(c) performing the test or evaluation using the test-enabled browser (0142, 0145, 0146).

- As for claim 11: The performing (c) of the test or evaluation comprises extracting details of a web page using a Document Object Model pertaining to the web page (0136, 0139).

- As for claim 12: A method as recited in claim 11, wherein said method further comprises expressing the details of the web page in a recorded script language (0135 - 0136, 0152 - 0158).
- As for claim 13: A web page is displayed in a browser window for viewing (0161).
- As for claim 14: The performing (c) of the test or evaluation comprises recording a script pertaining to an interaction sequence with the web page (0119-0132, 0156, 0160-0172).
- As for claims 15, 16: The performing (c) of the test or evaluation comprises subsequently playing back the script to confirm content of the web page and/or perform validations (0153, 0109).
- As for claim 17: The performing (c) of the test or evaluation comprises determining download timings for at least the component parts of the web page (0119-121, 0208, 0210).
- As for claim 18: The performing (c) of the test or evaluation comprises inducing a load on the web server by concurrently playing multiple scripts (0153-0155, 0173).
- As for claim 19: The inducing launches a separate test-enabled browser for each of the scripts, and each of the test-enabled browsers plays a script (0153-0155).
- As for claim 20: A method as recited in claim 19, wherein all the test-enabled browsers play the same script (0153-0155).

Art Unit: 2173

- As for claim 21: All the test-enabled browsers are operating on a common computer being operatively connectable to the network (fig. 1).
